About Sarasota Memorial

It was the people of Sarasota and dedication to their community that helped create the area's first modern hospital in 1925, and it is that unwavering commitment that continues to help Sarasota Memorial Health Care System remain the nationally recognized medical center it is today. With an 806-bed acute care hospital and comprehensive network of outpatient services, Sarasota Memorial offers the region's greatest breadth and depth of care.

Despite our growth over the decades, Sarasota Memorial remains true to its founding mission to be the safety net of care for the people in this community. Sarasota Memorial is the second-largest acute care public health system in Florida, with about 4,500 staff, 750 physicians and more than 1,000 volunteers. It is Sarasota County's second-largest employer and is governed by the 9-member elected Sarasota County Public Hospital Board.
